Khaun RTC X Toomisu RTC

This boy makes a splash! iKhaun is a very young yearling and already shows great promise. His eagerness to try to meet the girls across the field could pair nicely with some of your females. As you can see, he has the correct confirmation and incredible fiber that is routinely stamped out by his sire, Khaun RTC.

His dam, Toomisu RTC, held her own in the show ring and has consistently out-produced herself in our breeding program. iKhaun's maternal big brother was recently sold to another farm as their primary stud. This male is only being offered because we are working to reduce our numbers and he is directly related to a majority of our herd.'
